A Visit To Marine Station KPH

A group of our members trekked out to Point Reyes to visit the ship to shore marine radio station KPH, the staff at KPH spent a good deal of time with us explaining the history of the station and its purpose of passing and receiving messages from ships at sea. The photos below tell a small story of our visit at the receiving station. Two members went on to visit the transmitting site in Bolinas and later joined up with us, many of their pictures will also be posted soon. Another opportunity was to use a straight key to send a Morse code signal on the Amateur CW Bands to other Amateurs who would be listening.

The Last Decade of Western
The formation of MCI was a result of a series of events that began in 1980 when Robert E. Kahn, a former AT&T executive, and a group of investors decided to create a new company to provide long-distance telephone service. Kahn had been working for AT&T for many years and had become disillusioned with the company's policies. He had seen the potential for a new company that would provide a more competitive and customer-oriented service. Kahn and his investors raised $10 million to start the company. The company was named MCI Telecommunications Corporation. The company's first service was long-distance telephone service. The company grew rapidly and became a major player in the telecommunications industry. In 1985, the company was listed on the New York Stock Exchange. The company's success was due to its innovative services and its commitment to customer service. The company's stock price rose sharply, and the company became a household name. The company's success was a testament to the power of innovation and customer service. The company's success was a result of the leadership of Robert E. Kahn and his investors.
