

A New Generation Continues The Dream

Space X launches from Cape Canaveral with quotes from the beginnings of America's Mercury program "Lets Light This Candle" spoken by one of the astronauts, to "Godspeed" from Mission Control. The rocket launched successfully and now is in an orbit to intercept the ISS. America, with its prowess of technological innovation has rejoined space exploration after a hiatus that started in 2011.